

BASIC CIVIL AVIATION KNOWLEDGE

Dr Rainer Brorsen

28th September 2020 - 16.00-17.30 CET

This session is reserved for participants who have no or very little prior knowledge of aviation!!

Having spent my professional life in the aviation industry I know how complex that subject is in facts, processes and terminology. It took me a considerable time and effort to grasp this complex industry. Out of this experience the concept has risen to pave the way for consultants, expert staff, managers and other aviation interested parties without much prior aviation experience who have recently started or expect to work soon - project related or permanently - in the aviation industry:

For those interested persons or parties a concise, structured basic training has been developed which helps from scratch to understand the aviation industry and make use of aviation's "insider" terminology in a short, but comprehensive trainings course.

In this short 1,5 hrs module you will get an impression of the 3-day Basic Civil Aviation Training which is currently held in GERMAN but may be adapted to English at some time in the future.
